Box color (over the counter) vs. Professional Educated Cosmetologists

I've come across many clients that needed to have their hair color fixed. Some damage was done by clients themselves with store bought products; some was done by an uneducated or even unlicensed Cosmetologist/Hair Colorist.

My thoughts to fixing the hair color... When I hear the word "color" I imagine many other images associated with color, like: a rainbow, the creation....and sometimes also a disaster or a challenge! I love to color the hair. I feel like I am challenged to the fullest because you can only imagine how the final product will look like. A talented (gifted) Cosmetologist/Hair Colorist must have a very good eye for pigments - in the client's skin, eye and hair color, and understand the texture and the state of the client's hair "health" and also in the professional product used.

The successful Cosmetologist/Hair Colorist attends many advanced training classes given by the companies who make the color/chemical products. The top Cosmetologist/Hair Colorist desires to get as much knowledge as humanly possible; to understand color pigmentation and how the color pigments and hair pigments react together. Only a truly talented and educated Cosmetologist/Hair Colorist will create spectacular color shades that are right for each individual client. To protect and enhance your chemical service, I suggest professional home care products
