Biofreeze is a product used for relieving pain in sports injuries, arthritis, sore muscles and joints, sprains and backache. It works using cryotherapy, a process which cools the area and relieves pain by reducing blood flow to the area and reducing the ability of the nerves to conduct pain stimuli.

Biofreeze contains Ilex, which is an herb extracted from a South American holly shrub. Ilex is traditionally used by Paraguayan Indians and is added to the product to help the gel to penetrate the affected areas. We offer Biofreeze in two formats: tube and roll-on.
